The Green Team won the Green-Gray Trophy for 1980.

From the Headmaster's Desk

Since its doors first opened in September 1959, The Lexington School has become a very important element within the educational community of Central Kentucky.

The graduation of the Class of 1980 brought the number who have been awarded diplomas from the school to 360. Each of these fine young people has made a unique contribution toward making The Lexington School the special environment it has become.

The arrival of our second generation has been an exciting period for those of us who knew these parents as members of our student body years ago. It is gratifying for me to realize that our graduates are seeking to place their children with us for this serves as an endorsement of what the school has meant to their families in the past.

In order for an educational institution to remain viable, it must be sensitive to changing needs brought on by technological and societal progressions. As the course of The Lexington School is charted for the next decade, we shall continue to stress the areas of our program which have proven to stand the test of time and we will search for additions to these basic tenets which will better prepare our graduates for the times in which they will live.

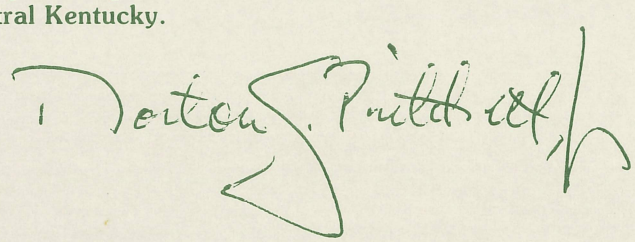

Our approach has always followed such a procedure. In the era of our first graduating class (1963), our curriculum did not include such topics as the computer and the study of environmental science. Little emphasis was placed upon the need for conservation of energy or the preservation of our environment from pollution and waste.

The second generation of our students faces an entirely new set of forces which have come with current times and I am confident that the exposure we provide for them will be invaluable to future graduates as they take their rightful places in a complex society and world.

We value and seek the input of our families, graduates and friends as we plan and implement new programs for The Lexington School. Please feel free to let us have the benefit of any suggestions you may have.

Our Board of Trustees has created a Planning Committee which will be charged with the responsibility of establishing long-range objectives for the school. Trustees serving on this committee are: Robert Brewer, Catesby Clay, Robert Dawson, Jr., George Evans, Jr., Larry Hacker, Alice Ingram, Laban Jackson, Jr., William W. Kelly, and Harry Snyder, Jr.

Your input to this committee will assure that The Lexington School continues its important role in providing an outstanding educational program for the young people of Central Kentucky.

Gifts to TLS

The graduating class presented two wall plaques to the school. Individual wood carvings and ceramic tiles made by members of the class are mounted on the wall plaques. Art teacher, Judy Apple assisted the students in the preparation of this meaningful gift.

The Class of 1980 also made a donation to The Lexington School to be used to landscape the courtyard which is located in the center of the school plant.

Clara Wilson Downing
July 27, 1980

All those who were privileged to hav had Mrs. Downing as their first grade teacher will be saddened to learn of her death on July 27th. Her tenure at The Lexington School spanned seven years, from 1967 to 1974. Upon retirement the Clara W. Downing Scholarship Fund was established in her honor and announced by Mr. Pritchell at graduation exercises.

She returned the following year on a part time basis and held forth in "Downing's Den" where she worked with children in her first love and specialty, reading.

Her continuing interest in her students was evident as she eagerly pored over the "Circum Complex" each year and learned about past classes and their present activities. It gave her great pleasure as she was home bound the past four years, a victim of severe arthritis.

"Granny D" leaves a legacy of more than fifty years of teaching and in numerable students who in publi schools, at Sayre School and finally at The Lexington School were fortunate to begin their educational career inspired by one who cared and set high standards and goals.

Room Mothers' Annual Report

The 1979-1980 Room Mothers' Committee was a very active organization with the help of all the mothers of The Lexington School.

The year began with the class coffees being held in private homes.

With the expert help of Betty Jo Palmer the Standing Rules and Policies were updated to meet the current needs of the committee.

The bazaar of '79 was under the creative leadership of Mary Jo Johnson. Besides the many hand-made items, other selections were also sold. Margaret Dale and her committee were in charge of gathering recipes for the cookbook entitled "Scrumptious Soups and Buttery Breads." A one year membership to The Lexington Tennis Club and two autographed basketballs were raffled off. Marion Meadows took charge of the raffle. Renee Smith organized the bake sale during the bazaar as well as the spring bake sale. Mary Jo Lamkin arranged for the many plants which were available to the bazaar and the spring plant and bake sale. Pecans were sold throughout the year.

Alice and Lindsey Ingram opened their lovely new home to the friends and families of The Lexington School for the Annual Green-Gray Soiree.

The Mothers' Committee voted that the profits from the fund raising activities would be used to complete the restrooms in the new addition, to wire classrooms for air conditioning and install room units in rooms which were not previously air conditioned. The support of all the mothers at The Lexington School is sincerely appreciated.

With Margie Hacker as Chairman and Jane Baumohl as Vice-Chairman, the 1980-1981 Room Mothers' Committee includes:

French Awards

The French Students in grades six through nine participated in two contests this year. The contests are The Kentucky Regional Language Festival and the Grand Concours, which is a national competition.

Kentucky began its Language Festival four years ago in order to promote the study of languages. A Regional Festival takes place first in each of the seven regions of Kentucky. Only the First Place student in a given category in each Region participates in the State Festival. The results for the Regional Festival were: Charlotte Gay, second place, and Leigh Harris, third place in poetry I; Renie Ingram, first place in Poetry II; Lynn Knox, second place in Poetry III, Charlotte Gay, first place in Oral Proficiency II; and Catherine Calvert, third place in Oral Proficiency III. In the State Festival, Lynn Knox won third place in Oral Proficiency II, Charlotte Gay took second in Oral Proficiency I, and Renie Ingram was first in Poetry II.

The Grand Concours, organized by the American Association of Teachers of French, has been in existence for a number of years. The Lexington School produced four National winners in the FLES contest for 6th grade. At this level the best students of each state are considered National winners. They are tested on their written and oral ability. The winners were Mary Park, Christina Eng, John Young, and Leigh Harris. In the Secondary School Contest, judged at three levels — state, regional, and national — the school's state winners were as follows: Renie Ingram and Sarah Kotchen, honorable mention; Lynn Knox, fifth place; Tim Edwards, Elizabeth Hughes and Paige Wilhite, second place; and Sarah Ades, first place in French I B; Julie Geddes, Scott Plumlee, Stuart Plumlee, Paula Shoemaker, Richard Johnson and John Park, honorable mention; Catherine Calvert and Chris Ward, fifth place; and Sara Beth Young, third place in French II B. At the regional level, Timothy Edwards, Elizabeth Hughes and Paige Wilhite placed fourth, and Sarah Ades first in French I B; while Sara Beth Young placed ninth in French II B. And at the national level, Timothy Edwards, Elizabeth Hughes and Paige Wilhite finished ninth, and Sarah Ades was fifth in French I B.

Physical Fitness Awards

On Awards Day, May 23, eighty-two of the students in grades five through nine at The Lexington School received achievement award certificates and emblems in recognition of their success in the AAHPER Youth Fitness Test at the 50th percentile level. Sixty-four students were recognized for having attained the 85th percentile level on this national test. This number represents 73 percent of the students in grades five through nine.

Students attaining the 50th percentile on the tests which are prepared by The President's Council on Physical Fitness at the Elementary Level were Eleanor Adams, Lisa Apple, David Archer, Tricia Bayer, Margaret Blaydes, deMaret Dale, David Edelstein, Lee Ellis, Rebecca Gilster, Jaime Grieves, David Jones, Peter Kotchen, Christy Martin, Bill Meadows, Jennifer Miller, Rob Milward, Joe Murphy, David Nicholson, Wendy Parrish, Alex Raney and Amber Spencer, Grade 5; Anne Ades, Paul Apple, Howard Carey, Web Cowden, Thomas Gaines, Anne Goodman, Kris Grieves, Leigh Harris, Betsy Ireland, Joe Shepherd, Chris Wells, Jeremy Wolsk and Chris Young, Grade 6.

Students reaching the 50th percentile on the Junior High Level were Will Arvin, Susan Baumohl, Bruce Belin, Sarah Bennett, Norman Brown, Marty Charters, Camden Clay, Christopher deMovellan, Alice Foose, David Host, Jonathan Miller, Van Meter Pettit, Julie Rosenthal, David Russell and Grant Spencer, grade 7; Amy Dawahare, Jim Hacker, Steve Hatton, Danny Kielar, Sarah Kotchen, Jennfer Levy, Jon Shepard and Jeff Wells, grade 8; Catherine Calvert, Luke Hodges, Richard Johnson, Kel Lange, Lee Ellen Marcum, Kevan Morgan, Paula Nieto, Paul O'Neill, John Park, Mary Ann Patrick, Scott Plumlee, Stuart Plumlee and Matt Wellens, grade 9.

Attaining the 85th percentile for the first year were Sandy Beverly, Lisa Knox, Heather Sanders and Robbie Tighe, grade 5; Keene Adams, Katherine Blaydes, Gerry Calvert, Caroline Garden, David Kotchen, Matthew Mills, Lee Patterson, Karen Playforth, Mike Slovin and Megan Zent, grade 6; Lucy Backer, Billie Jo Hall, Don Jacobs, Elizabeth Kinkead, Lisa Morgan and Elizabeth Patterson, grade 7; Chip Bird, Eugene Cazden, Bruce Kunkel, Will Montague and Bill Patterson, grade 8; Todd Collis, Julie Geddes, Chris Nelli and Paula Shoemaker, grade 9.

Fourth year 85th percentile award winners were Kim Arnold, Anne Lucas and Donny Schaeffer, grade 8; Burgess Carey, Bobby Stephens and Chris Ward, grade 9.

Catherine Brown, grade 9, earned the 85th percentile award for the fifth consecutive year, and Whitney page, grade 9, earned the award for the sixth year in succession.

Students scoring highest on the AAHPER Youth Fitness Test at the Elementary Level were Robbie Tighe and Sandy Beverly.

Sports and Service Honors

As an important part of the Awards Day program, a large number of certificates of participation were given to students at TLS for their contribution to various sports programs at the school. Many Upper School students earned letters and/or bars for their dedication, skill and team support. Letters were awarded in soccer, basketball, tennis, track, golf and softball.

Members of the sixth grade class were praised for their service to the school through their volunteer participation as bookstore clerks, car door openers and library aides.

Those who were active in student government were also acknowledged and applauded.

Variety in Assembly Programs

School assembly programs for the 1979-1980 year were under the competent guidance of Sue Orme, a beloved science teacher at TLS. Upper School students were usually responsible for the planning and execution of the programs. However, Middle School students were occasionally called upon to contribute. In early October, the Middle School assembly committee invited four alumni, Kristin Wilhite '77, Steve Simons '76, Chris Nieto '77 and Robert DeAngelis '77 to give the program (See photo page 7). These alumni spoke on the topic "Life after The Lexington School." September programs included the student government candidate speeches and a program concerning various school activities. In late October an outstanding symposium of the United Nations was given in honor of United Nations Day. The traditional Thanksgiving program with gifts of food for the Salvation Army highlighted November, and the annual Christmas program was given in December. At the first assembly in January, Upper School students took a look at lifestyles and issues of the future. A most memorable event in late January was the visit to TLS by Sam Eden, a handicapped student from the University of Kentucky who offered a new perspective on life. Sam was introduced by Jonathan Edwards '77. "Lexington at the time of Lincoln" was the theme of the February assembly. Upper School students described school, homes, social life, transportation, and culture in Old Lexington. A talk was given about Henry Clay and his influence. Then Mr. Lincoln (George Cox in costume) gave the Gettysburg Address. The March assembly program focused on the various sports at TLS and recognition was given to the many students who participated. April's program was an overview of the yearbook staff's work in preparation of the 1980 Circum Complex. The graduating class honored Mr. Pritchett with the dedication of the yearbook. Kel Lange, President of the Student Council, presented a copy of the 1980 Circum Complex to Mr. Pritchett. In May, the assembly featured a movie of Lexington Today which was presented by Mr. Nicholas McManus, father of Kelly McManus who attends prekindergarten at TLS.

TLS Students in Music and Dance

Seventeen Middle School students participated in the Spring Matinee which was presented at TLS under the direction of Mrs. Bill Keig, music teacher. Included in this outstanding program were two lovely dance routines, one tap and one ballet. There were two melodious violin solos, one beautiful flute solo, one fine vocal solo and several impressive piano solos. Peers, parents and teachers were all most appreciative of the talents and efforts of these young performers.

Several TLS students who study with Judy Vasek presented a program at TLS. First a group demonstration was given by the Suzuki violinists. Following the group performance, individual students gave violin demonstrations. Featured were students who began violin lessons this year as well as those who have been playing for several years. After the Suzuki demonstrations, a special concert was given by the TLS Orchestra. This performance was also very much appreciated by everyone who attended. For those who were not able to attend, both of these special programs have been videotaped and may be seen later.

TLS Derby

Members of the Prekindergarten, Montessori and Kindergarten classes were featured in a unique contest on May 2 the day before the famous Kentucky Derby Race at Churchill Downs. Several students brought 'Big Wheel' vehicles to school. The race track was set up on the tennis courts by Mr. Terry Brewer, physical education director. Participants were divided into small groups and were assisted and supervised by sixth grade students. The race was a most enjoyable experience for spectators as well as for those children who took part in the contest. Quite likely the TLS Derby will become one of our most popular traditions.

Alumni News

by Claire MacFarlane

Welcome to our newest Alumni, the Class of 1980. Thirty-eight members received their diplomas on June 6th, swelling old Alumni body to 360. It was delightful to see so many TLS alumni in the audience that morning. An excellent color picture of some of those returning has been put up in the Alumni News Case in the hall. We're sorry it took so long to "get organized" that we missed many of your smiling faces, but please come back for the 1981 shot! It was good to see you.

The Class of 1977, newly graduated from high school, are reuning in late August before they scatter to various college choices. A swimming party is planned at Spindletop. Congratulations to all of you and may I add that you certainly covered yourselves with glory!

Hotchkiss students Elizabeth Gay '79 and Margaret Graves '79 are very enthusiastic about their choice. They both appreciate their TLS foundation that makes hard work easier. Margaret especially enjoyed seeing everyone at the TLS Alumni basketball game played during Thanksgiving vacation.

The Shipley School will close their boarding department in two years, which means that Jenny Turnbull '79 just makes the cut.

Cathy Lester '78 is a Beta Club inductee, is still enjoying sports as the pitcher on Tates Creek's Varsity baseball team and made the All Tournament Basketball team at Kentucky State.

Liz Polk, also class of '78, is an honor roll student at Lexington Catholic and finds time for soccer, Pep Club, school newspaper, the yearbook, and still has energy to think about starting a literary magazine in the fall.

Graduating from Lexington Catholic this year was Esther Fallon '77. She had a good trip to Wisconsin during May to compete in the Junior Olympics on the Kentucky Youth Soccer Association team. Sister, Alma Fallon '78 also made the team. Esther was editor of the senior section of the yearbook and Pep Club president. Lillian Fallon '74 will graduate with a secondary art education degree from Transylvania in 1981.

The opening speech and benediction at baccalaureate for the Lafayette graduates was given by Nancy Padgett '77.

Jim Gormley '77 spent the month before his graduation from Episcopal High working as an intern for Representative Larry Hopkins in Washington, D.C.

Cam Shaeffer '77 coached Lexington Youth Soccer League Colts (a team of Lexington School players) to an 8-1 record. Congratulations! Brother, Win Schaeffer '73 completed his chemistry degree at Princeton and left for a summer in Europe with the possibility of additional travel and work in Europe and the United States before enrolling in graduate school in 1981-1982.

Beth Robinson '74 had a good tour of Europe in the summer of 1979 with the AIFS group. She is majoring in architectural history at U.K. and is enjoying life in the Kappa house.

Back at the University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill this fall will be Business Administration major Louise Prewitt '74. A glorious four month study period in Bregeny, Austria, was geared toward travelling to reinforce classroom teaching, so Louise had lots of opportunity to see much of Europe.

Jean Ezzell '71 graduated from U.K. in May and is enthusiastic about her work as a designer with Designers' Guild Interiors.

Pat Noyes '72 has chosen to study for her Master's in urban geography at McMaster University in Hamilton, Ontario, Canada. Her sister, Nancy Noyes Reichardt '70 is a computer programmer with Blue Cross/Blue Shield in Washington, D.C. Closer to the Blue Grass we find Sally Noyes '67 who is a practicing attorney with Greenbaum, Doll, and McDonald in Louisville.

Far, far away are law graduates Susan Griffin Phillips '68 and Sandy Macfarlane '69. Susan recently moved from a 70 member firm to Poindexter and Doutre, a seven member group. She wonders if there are any TLS Alumni in the Los Angeles area. We were delighted to hear from Jane Eiseman Scribner '63, who lives in Hillsborough, California. Sandy lives in Houston, Texas where he joined Gulf Oil in their International Tax Department last May.

Also travelling south we find Em Parrish Green '64 with two boys on her hands. Elijah Tevis is 4½ and Huston de Waal only 15 months. She and Bob live in Albany, Georgia.

Happily returned to the Blue Grass is Gordon Campbell '63. He began as a contract administration co-ordinator at Chrisman, Miller, and Wallace in March. A son attends prekindergarten at TLS.

Johnny Bell '66 was elected to the Board of Farm Managers' Club.

A regional loan officer with Citizens' Fidelity Bank and Trust in Louisville, Louis Pritchard '68 travels in Western Kentucky. He and Bennett Walthall met at Centre College and were married in June, 1979. Brother, Nathan Pritchard '67 is the Photographer for the Kentucky Historical Society. He takes and prints all their photos and prepares photography exhibits for the Historymobile that travels the state. He also freelances and has shown in Kentucky Shows. One of his portrait photos was included in the Matthew Jouett catalog that was prepared for Transylvania's Bicentennial exhibit organized by former English faculty member Bill Floyd. All other photographs in a beautifully executed catalog were by Brian Dale '70. We're proud of you and your contributions to this special community event.

Four alumni guests at TLS Assembly: Kristin Wilhite '77, Robert DeAngelis '77, Steve Simons '76, and Chris Nieto '77.

Congratulations to:

Laura Mason '73, who was the bride of William Rodes Brown on May 30, 1980.

John Irvin '67, who on June 21 married Diane Stall in New Orleans. The Irvins now live in Lexington.

John A. Bell IV '66 and Nancy on the arrival of John A. Bell V on April 21, 1980. "Quin" is his most appropriate moniker.

Jane Evans Hendrickson (former art teacher) and Tom who welcomed Mary Jane on April 8, 1980.

Reid Thompson '64 and Sheila on the arrival of a son born August 1, 1980.

Kudos
