The Scoop on Hoops

by Whitney Martin '88

This year's Lexington School basketball season finale brought new meaning to the term "March Madness." Four Colt teams made it to the regional league semifinals, and two of those teams continued on to the nail-biting finals. Although no one took home the regional first place prize, all players, coaches and fans agree it was a season that will go down in School history as one of the finest and strongest.

The 7th and 8th Grade Girls' Team, coached by Athletics & Intramurals Director Sean Noble, claimed two impressive Runner-Up titles - one in the parochial league and one in the regional league (which was lost by only one point to Good Shepherd of Frankfort).

Coach Sean Noble discusses a play with the 7th & 8th Grade Girls' Team.

The girls ended the season with a remarkable 13-2 record.

The 7th and 8th Grade Boys' Team, also coached by Sean Noble, finished their season with a 23-10 record, surpassing the School record for total wins. They were undefeated in the parochial league, beating St. Peter & Paul for the championship, and lost the regional final by mere points to St. Peter & Paul.

In addition to the two 7th and 8th grade teams that made it to the regional finals, the 5th and 6th Grade Girls' White Team, coached by fourth grade social studies and language arts teacher Mark Scarr, had a 9-1 season and made it to the regional semifinals.

The 5th and 6th Grade Boys' Green Team, coached by Benjamin Easley, made it to the parochial league semifinals, losing by only six points to the final champion, Christ the King.

Sean Noble also coached the 7th Grade Boys' Team to an undefeated season of 11-0 which won them first place in the Foley Invitational.

All said, "March Madness" found a new home at The Lexington School. Headmaster John Fixx commented on the contagious springtime frenzy. "I was very proud of these Lexington School athletes. The teamwork was exceptional, the coaching was outstanding, the atmosphere was electric. We had parents and siblings of the players cheering, schoolmates stomping their feet, and the magnificent cheerleading squad coming out between quarters to build pyramids and rouse the fans. It was one of the best Saturdays I can remember from five schools and 20 years of school life."

Hollywood in June?

Although he may be familiar to some in this archival photo, he may be more recognizable as the new face on Fox's "Ally McBeal." Josh Hopkins will return to The Lexington School on June 1, 2002, to give the commencement address for the Class of 2002.

Josh's career highlights include not only "Ally McBeal," but the television show "Jack and Jill" and the movies "Love and Sex" and "The Perfect Storm." You're invited to attend the ceremony to hear Josh wish the graduates well.

Meet the Trustees

by Whitney Martin '88

In this issue, and in the next two, Pinpoints will feature the members of the Board of Trustees. They are a diverse and talented group of individuals that give much of their hearts and time to The Lexington School, and they deserve not only coverage but gratitude. We hope the Lexington School community enjoys reading about this special and important collection of people. Stay tuned for additional profiles.

Gross Family Photo

Ms. Kathy S. Gross

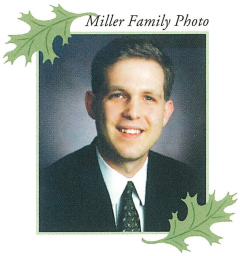

Vice President of the Board of Trustees

Kathy is a native of Chagrin Falls, Ohio. She graduated from Miami University (Ohio) where she was a psychology major. She worked for 19 years at Blue Grass AAA as Marketing Manager. Kathy "retired" six years ago and since then has devoted herself to volunteer commitments. She is the President of the YWCA and is involved with the University of Kentucky Arboretum, where she has served as a Board Member and Newsletter Editor. Kathy enjoys traveling, running, gardening and reading. She is the mother of seventh grade student Colleen '04.

Mrs. Holly C. Bandoroff

Holly is a native of Columbus, Ohio, and graduated Phi Beta Kappa from the University of Kentucky with a history major and a minor in art history. She was the recipient of the 1982 Holman Hamilton Scholarship for UK's outstanding senior history major. Holly and her husband, Craig, run their thoroughbred horse farm and sales agency, Denali Stud. Not only does Holly contribute to The Lexington School by serving on the Board as a member of its Educational Policy Committee and Board-Faculty Relations Committee, she has also worked on the School's Community Service Committee for the past five years. She is also an active docent at the UK Art Museum. Holly describes herself as a voracious reader, crossword puzzle addict and avid sports fan. Her three children are: Katherine '04, Conrad '08 and Isabel '14, a rising Kinderklasse student.

Mr. Jonathan Miller '82

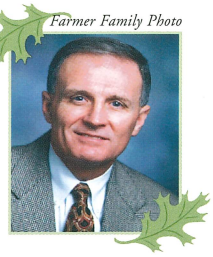

Jonathan is a graduate of Harvard College and Harvard Law School and was elected Kentucky State Treasurer in 1999. Under his leadership, the state launched KAPT (Kentucky's Affordable Prepaid Tuition), and his new Commission on Personal Savings and Investment works to promote financial health among Kentuckians. In the summer of 2000, he was featured on the cover of The New Democrat as one of the nation's rising political stars. In May 2001, he was appointed to the Executive Monitoring Committee which monitors the return of assets seized during the Holocaust to their rightful owners. In February of 2002, Jonathan was one of 200 delegates appointed to the National Summit on Retirement Savings. He also serves on the Board of the Lexington Urban League, is a Sunday School teacher and T-ball coach. He and his wife, Lisa, have two daughters: Emily '09 and Abigail '11.

Mr. James Frazier III

Campaign Co-Chair

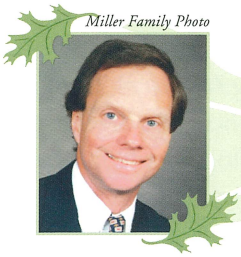

James is a graduate of Transylvania University and the University of Kentucky College of Law. He became a Partner of McBrayer, McGinnis, Leslie & Kirkland, PLLC, in 1990 and a Managing Partner in 1992. He concentrates primarily in all areas related to real estate and financing. From 1992-93 he was the President of the Fayette County Bar Association, and he is a Member of its Board as well.

For five years, he served as the President of the Headley-Whitney Museum. He is on the Board of not only The Lexington School, but also Transylvania University, Hospice of the Bluegrass, United Way and the Lafayette Club. Since 1992, he has been the Deputy Master Commissioner of the Fayette Circuit Court, and he serves as the principal contact for the Kentucky Cabinet for Economic Development. He and his wife, Caroline, have three sons: James '01, Sims '03 and Hampton '05.

Mr. E. Lambert Farmer, Jr.

Lambert graduated from Indiana University and the University of Kentucky College of Law. He is a member of Frost, Brown, Todd, LLC, in the firm's Litigation, Corporate and e-Business and Technology Departments. He has served on the firm's Management Committee and is a former Chair of the Litigation Department. His professional affiliations include: the American Bar Association, Litigation and Products Stability Sections; the Kentucky Bar Association, Litigation Section; American Trial Lawyers Association; Kentucky Trial Lawyers Association; Defense Research Institute, Kentucky Defense Council, Inc. (President 1994-1995); Fayette County Bar Association (Auditor); and he is a University of Kentucky Fellow. He participates in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and the Rotary International Club, of which he is a past President and received the Paul Harris Fellow Award. Lambert and his wife, Deloris, have two children: Annette '08 and Elliott '05.

Los Angeles Gathering

Gay Kenney Browne '75 hosted a wonderful evening for Lexington School alumni and grandparents at the Bel Air Hotel in Los Angeles. The conversation was a combination of sharing stories of The Lexington School's past, catching up about life on campus today, and hearing about the developing plans for the School's future expansion and programs. The alumni enjoyed reconnecting with each other, and everyone was thrilled to get together so many miles from Lexington.

San Francisco Gathering

In San Francisco, La Piñata Restaurant in Burlingame was the scene for a relaxed dinner of easy conversation among the attendees. As in Los Angeles, a number of the alumni and grandparents in the area were not able to attend, so some time was spent updating people about the achievements and whereabouts of those who were unable to make it. A wonderful time was had by all. Lexington School affiliates at the dinner included: Former Lexington School parent Patricia Carney; Ann Carney '92; Headmaster John D. Fixx; Head of Lower School Susan Touchstone; Paul Touchstone; Prentiss Douglass IV '89; Teddy Gay '89; Elizabeth Polk '78.
